HSBC hires Greg Bunn to run Securities Financing, Americas

(New York/ London) – HSBC announced today that it has appointed Greg Bunn as Head of Securities Financing, Americas, with immediate effect. He will be based in New York.

HSBC's Securities Financing business offers multi-asset cash and synthetic financing solutions to fund managers who want to connect to the bank's global Prime Finance platform and leverage HSBC's market-leading strengths in Asia, the Middle East and Emerging Markets.

Greg has held many senior investment banking and hedge fund roles over the past 25 years, including Global Head of Counterparty Strategy & Central Funding at Citadel, as well as Global Co-Head of Prime Finance at Deutsche Bank. He joins from Blockchain.com, where he was Head of Institutional Markets.

Loic Lebrun, Global Head of Prime Finance, HSBC, said:

"We're really pleased that Greg has joined HSBC to lead the growth of our Prime Finance business in the US. Our US Arranged Financing platform enables US-domiciled fund managers to access the strength of HSBC's balance sheet and high-quality credit rating, providing them with more options when choosing a prime broker to finance their global investment strategies."

HSBC has made a number of senior hires in recent months, as it grows its Prime Finance business, including Jodi Damico, Global Head of Client Executives for Hedge Funds, and Ken Hon, Head of Prime Finance, Asia.

HSBC's Prime Finance capabilities cover equities, FX, futures and repo globally – all supported by electronic execution.
